

Wrong Woman Blues

Words and Music by Bill Barwick
© 1994, Barwick's Voice & Music, BMI
CD: Cowboys, Lians and Lovers, 1993

1.

There's somethin' sad in lovin' the wrong woman
And feelin' bad about the way you feel
Holdin' on to someone, and knowin' deep inside
That where you are ain't where you want to be

2.

Lookin' into someone's eyes and seein'
Another face where her face used to be
Can only help remind you of someone she can't see
And where you are ain't where you want to be

CHORUS:

I remember all our lovin'
And the nights we spent back home
Now there's someone else beside me
And I guess it's better than tryin' to sleep alone

3.

I close my eyes to try to hide from seein'
Another face where your face used to be
And there you are in moonlight, with lovin' in your eyes
And where I am ain't where I want to be

CHORUS